

Concord Medical Services Holdings Limited Announces the First Cyberknife System in CCM Network Starts Treating Patients

February 8, 2012

BEIJING, Feb. 8, 2012 /PRNewswire-Asia-FirstCall/ -- Concord Medical Services Holdings Limited ("Concord Medical", or the "Company") (NYSE: CCM), a leading specialty hospital management solution provider and operator of the largest network of radiotherapy and diagnostic imaging centers in China, today announced that the first CyberKnife® Robotic Radiosurgery System (the "Cyberknife System") in the Concord Medical's network, located within Changhai Hospital in Shanghai, has started treating patients.

Changhai Hospital is a 3A hospital with over 2,000 beds, and is considered to be one of China's leading hospitals. The Company is currently in the process of installing an additional Cyberknife System in another hospital in 2012.

"We are very pleased to add the Cyberknife System to Concord Medical's nationwide network," Dr. Jianyu Yang, Chairman and CEO, commented. "Our goal is to always provide the highest quality of services to patients in China. In addition, the operation of the Cyberknife System will enable Concord Medical to accumulate valuable experience in providing high-end oncology services."

The Cyberknife System is an advanced method of radiosurgery, which delivers highly targeted and effective doses of radiation with the highest levels of accuracy with minimal radiation exposure and side effects related to many radiotherapy procedures.
